

IN A STORY BROKEN BY SOBS MRS. ANNA BRADLEY LAYS BARE BROWN'S PERFDY AND HER SHAME

On Witness Stand She Bravely Started on the Terrible Ordeal for Which She Had Steeled Herself

BUT WITNESS BROKE DOWN COMPLETELY

Sympathetic Court Tried to Make it as Easy as Possible, and Each Juror Hung Breathless on Every Word of Cruel Recital.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Attracted by the announcement that Mrs. Bradley would probably today go upon the witness stand to tell her life story, a morbidly curious crowd thronged the court corridors long before the court opened.

"It will be worse than death itself," said she before leaving the jail, "to go over the past and tell all its terrible secrets. I did not want to do it, if it could possibly be helped. But my attorneys think it necessary and it would be unfair to these men who have worked so hard for me if I should refuse. I shall try to bear up bravely. It has been awful enough to hear the things that have been brought out in the trial without having to tell them myself."

As Mrs. Bradley entered she seemed to realize that the trying ordeal was at hand. She was more nervous than usual, but the determination with which she faced the situation was evident in her demeanor. At times she trembled, and her attorneys made efforts to encourage her in spite of which it seemed that she was on the point of collapse. The defense first called Mrs. Josephine Tighe, a newspaper writer, to the stand. She testified that Mrs. Bradley, after the shooting, showed unusual excitement when told that Mrs. Adams, the mother of Maude Adams, was in town.

"At this time," said Mrs. Tighe, "her eyes had a dead, fishy look, and she constantly pulled and clutched at the bed clothing. To me, she seemed insane."

During this time, Mrs. Bradley was preparing herself for the trial before her. She watched the witness intently, taking courage apparently in the things said in her behalf.

When Mrs. Tighe left the stand, there was a moment's silence. Judge Powers chief counsel for the defense, said quietly:

Call Mrs. Anna Adams." Then, correcting himself—"Mrs. Anna Bradley."

With firm step, the frail defendant walked forward and took her place in the witness chair.

Mrs. Bradley spoke in a low voice, scarcely loud enough to be heard by the jury. It was necessary on several occasions for the court reporter to repeat her answers in a louder voice.

In answer to her attorney's questions Mrs. Bradley commenced her narrative by telling of her birth in Kansas City, 35 years ago. Her education was received in Denver, Col. When 15 years of age she began her struggle for life as a bookkeeper and cashier in a Denver clothing store. She told of receiving an injury to her head when a child. "The spot is to this day sensitive to the touch," she said. In April, 1890, she moved to Salt Lake City, which ever since has been her home.

"Whom did you marry?" asked Judge Powers.

"Lawrence Bradley, on September 20, 1893."

"Where?"

"In Salt Lake City."

"Were any children born?"

"Matthew Bradley was born October 7, 1894, and Margaret, March 20, 1898."

"When did you join the Salt Lake Woman's Club?"

"January, 1894."

"What position did you hold?"

"I was corresponding secretary."

"Did you belong to any other organization?"

"The Women's Press Club and Poets' Round Table, a small club of sixteen members."

"After your marriage did you take an active part in politics?" queried Judge Powers.

"Yes, sir," she answered.

"Were you selected by your party for any public position?"

"I was secretary of the state Republican committee from 1900 to 1902."

"In relation to your married life, was it happy or unhappy?"

"Unhappy."

"When did you and your husband cease to live together?"

"In the summer of '98."

"Have you been divorced from him?"

"Yes, sir."

"When?"

"In December, 1905."

"Did you know ex-Senator Arthur Brown?"

"Yes, sir."

"When did you meet him?"

"In 1892."

"Where?"

"With Uncle Will."

"You once William H. Brown?"

"Yes, sir."

"At this point tears came to Mrs. Bradley's eyes, her voice choked and she was scarcely able to go on with her story."

"I became very well acquainted with Senator Brown in 1898," continued the defendant.

"Describe the nature of that acquaintance."

"She could not speak for the minute and then she could scarcely be heard. The stenographer approached her chair and repeated this answer."

"Our friendship grew into very intimate relations."

"At any time did your relations ripen into affections?"

"Yes, sir."

Asked to describe the nature of the acquaintance she broke down completely and sobbing said: "I can't; I can't."

Judge Powers paused some time to allow her to recover. The picture of the sobbing woman, narrating the story of her own shame in a broken and scarcely audible voice, was the most pitiable as well as the most dramatic that has been seen in the old court house for years. Many women wept openly and men turned away to hide their emotion.

"What was the manner of Senator Brown toward you?"

"I cannot describe it."

"Was it tender and affectionate?"

"Oh, yes, always."

"Did he make any protestations of love?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you love him?"

"Yes, sir."

"Can you describe it?"

"I can't tell that. It is beyond expression."

"At any time did you have a child born?"

"Yes, sir."

"When did you enter into intimate relations?"

"In January, 1899."

"Will you tell the jury how you came to enter into these relations?"

Her answer was sobbing to the jury. Repeated by the stenographer it was: "The Senator told me much of his life. He was a very unhappy man. I told him that our life would lead only to sorrow to grief. Never, never, he told me for we would go through life together no matter what happened. I then avoided him for months. He was a strange man. He came to my house at unseemly hours. One day he came and said: 'Darling, we are going through life together. I want you to have a son.' Several months later a son was born."

The words uttered almost in a whisper, held the court room in a spell. When she ceased speaking a

BUFFALO BILL IS NAMED IN THE GOULD SUIT.

MRS. HOWARD GOULD

COL. W. F. CODY (BUFFALO BILL)

HOWARD GOULD

New York, Nov. 19.—Through a motion before Justice O'Gorman in the Supreme court the name of Wm. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," was drawn into the suit of Mrs. Katherine Clemmons Gould, who is suing her husband, Howard Gould, for a separation.

Helen Mar, an actress and reader, has made an affidavit in which she declares that Mrs. Gould confessed to her 12 years ago regarding her relations with Colonel Cody. This document is in the hands of Nicoll, Anable & Lindsay, attorneys for Mr. Gould, who recently obtained an order from Justice Fitzgerald for the examination of Miss Mar.

Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for Mrs. Gould, appeared before Justice

O'Gorman yesterday with a motion to have the order of Justice Fitzgerald vacated.

Although the Mar affidavit tells of an alleged confession by Mrs. Gould involving Colonel Cody, Mr. Shearn declared in court that the defendant, in his affidavit asking for the examination of Miss Mar, did not say that Mrs. Gould had told Miss Mar what those relations were.

SUPREME COURT HELD AIKEN LAW CONSTITUTIONAL

THAT PRESENTATION AT THE OFFICE WAS PRESENTATION TO THE GOVERNOR.

OTHER ACTS ARE INVOLVED

Had Decision Been Other Way Every Act by Last Legislature Would Have Been Invalid.

Columbus, Nov. 19.—The Aiken law, imposing a tax of $1,000 per year upon saloons, was sustained by the Supreme court Tuesday. The court holds that a presentation of a bill passed by the legislature at the office of the Governor is a presentation to the Governor. The attack on the Aiken law was made by Cincinnati liquor interests, on the ground that Governor Pattison was so ill that he could not have received and considered the bill for his veto and as a matter of fact it was never presented to him personally. The bill became a law without his signature.

The decision also involves other acts of the legislature. Had the decision gone any other way it would have amounted to holding that not a single act of the last legislature was valid.

EX-SENATOR McCONICA

Indicted For Attempting to Bribe
Jury in the Standard Oil Case.

Findlay, Nov. 19.—Former State Senator Thomas H. McConica was today indicted by the Hancock county grand jury on a charge of attempting to bribe the jury in the Standard Oil case tried here last June. A hung jury was the result of the trial.

SHERIFFS

On Trial for Discriminating Against Powers in Getting Venue-men.

Georgetown, Ky., Nov. 19.—The sheriffs of Harrison and Scott counties charged with discriminating against Powers in summoning of a venire, were on trial today. Judge Harris has indicated that he will see that the jury is not party blind. Powers hopes to get an even break politically on the jury or get grounds for an appeal.

LITTLE CHILDREN HEARD TWO SHOTS

AND RUNNING TO BEDROOM SAW THEIR MOTHER IN DEATH AGONY

While Father Had Shot Himself With Suicidal Intent, But He Will Recover.

Columbus, Nov. 19.—While lying in bed beside her 6 year old daughter Mrs. Mary Bayless was shot in the head by her husband, William Bayless, at 10 o'clock last night, at their home, 427 North Front street. The man, who is thought to have been drinking, then turned his revolver on himself and sent a bullet from under the chin to the upper portion of his right cheek bone. The woman died at midnight. She was 44 years old. The bullet had entered at the left of the nose and ranged upward into the brain.

Aroused by the shots, Susie, aged 12, and Gussie, aged 9, daughter of the woman by a previous marriage, who were asleep in the next room, rushed in only to see their mother staining the covers of the bed with her life blood. Screaming they ran to her side and sank on their knees, praying that her life might be spared. Not understanding the scene before her, little Wilma Bayless, the 6 year old daughter of the man and woman crouched with widening eyes only vaguely realizing that something horrible had taken place.

The two were rushed to Protestant hospital, the wife in a dying condition. Examination developed the fact that there was no hope, and she died two hours after she was shot.

TRAINS MEET HEAD ON.

St. Louis, Nov. 19.—Passenger trains 12 and 19 on the Vandahia railroad collided head on at Vevan Park. Engineer McCollan was killed and a mail clerk and an express messenger were badly injured. One passenger was slightly injured.

TAFT AND PARTY HAVE STARTED TO ST. PETERSBURG

Vladivostok, Nov. 19.—Secretary Taft and party left here today over the trans-Siberian railroad for St. Petersburg, where the party is due December 3. They will be received there by the czar. The party travels on a private car. Taft has been treated like a visiting royalty here, but the Russian authorities are glad to have him gone, as another motive is regarded as imminent. It was feared that Taft would be attacked and every time he came ashore from the cruiser Rainbow, he was surrounded by a strong Cossack guard. Taft said he wasn't afraid, but the authorities insisted on the guard.

BRYAN WILL NOT DESERT IF DRAFTED

SAYS THAT IN THE PAST TWO BATTLES HE WAS A VOLUNTEER

SAYS GOVERNMENT IS RIGHT

But It Will Be Better When Senators
Are Elected by Direct Vote.
Given Ovation.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 19.—William Jennings Bryan spoke here Monday before one of the largest gatherings in the history of Indiana Democracy. The city was thronged all day with thousands of visitors. It was the "Bryan Day" celebration of the Jackson Club of this city. Whenever Bryan appeared he received an ovation. In the morning Bryan delivered an address to Purdue students on "Fifth," and was greeted enthusiastically. He told the students the government was all right, but that it would be much better when senators were elected by direct vote of the people. Bryan later was the guest of honor at a luncheon at the Lafayette Club.

At 1 o'clock a conference of Democratic editors and county chairmen of the state was held at the Jackson Club rooms, where Bryan delivered an informal address before an audience of several hundred scribes and chairmen. He said the Democratic campaign of 1908 would be inaugurated at once.

"After serving in two battles, I decided that duty did not require me to announce myself as a volunteer, but I announce now that if I am drafted I will not desert," said Bryan in opening.

"Ours is the volunteer army, and it is the volunteer who fights, not for money, but for a righteous purpose. Service will be paid for not in money, but in results, and let me say to you that we will not be confronted with the situation we found in 1904. The other side has not the money to spend. The exposures in the East have laid bare the pernicious system of subsidization and the big campaign contributions are a thing of the past."

STRIKE NOW IMPROBABLE.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Grand Master Hamley of the Switchmen's National Union says there will be no strike of the switchmen until he gives the word, and is in conference at Chicago today, attempting a settlement. In the meantime the railroads have contracts with the switchmen, and are enjoining them from leaving the agreements, and a strike is regarded as improbable now.

The largest mica mine in the world is located at Sydenham, Ontario, 10 miles from Kingston. The product is mostly amber mica with some silver amber, the highest quality mined.

COLLINS AND KERLIN MUST SERVE TEN YEARS IN THE PENITENTIARY

The Supreme Court Overrules Their Motion to File a Petition to Reverse the Cases.

THE MEN WERE CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER

At the April, 1906, Term of Court--The Trouble Grew
Out of the Polishers' Strike at the Wehrle Stove Foundry in June, 1905.

The Supreme Court Tuesday overruled the motions for leave to file petitions in error in the cases of George Kerlin and George Collins.

George Kerlin was indicted for the murder of Charles Higgins in September, 1905, on Railroad street. He was tried at the April, 1906, term of the Common Pleas court, and a verdict of manslaughter was returned by the jury, and he was sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years. The case was taken to the Circuit court, and after a number of delays, was affirmed by the Circuit court.

Last Thursday the motion for leave to file a petition in error on his behalf was argued in the Supreme court by Attorney Mulholland of Toledo, and Smythe & Smythe, of this city, and by T. B. Fulton and Prosecutor J. R. Fitzgibbon against the motion. The Supreme court Tuesday overruled the motion, deciding the case in favor of the State.

George Collins was indicted along with a number of others, for the murder of Homer Lear, which occurred December 31st, 1905. He was tried at the April term of the Common Pleas court in 1906, and was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of ten years. An appeal was taken to the Circuit court and in October, 1907, the Circuit court affirmed the lower court.

On last Thursday the motion for leave to file a petition in error in the Supreme court was argued by Attorneys Smythe & Smythe for the motion, and Fitzgibbon and T. B. Fulton against the motion. The Supreme court Tuesday denied the motion.

These prosecutions, which were the most sensational of any ever tried in Newark, grew out of the strike of the metal polishers at the Wehrle Stove foundry, this city, which began in June of 1905, and continued until the arrest of numerous parties charged with the killing of Homer Lear in the same year.

When the cases were argued in the Supreme court, both Kerlin and Collins, accompanied by several officers of the union were present. Kerlin and Collins have both been out on $5000 bond each. They will now be taken to the penitentiary to begin their sentences.

LARGEST DEAL IN REAL ESTATE EVER IN CHICAGO

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.
PURCHASES UNION STATION
SITE FOR $25,000,000.

This Company Also Makes Improvement in the Telephone System
Now in Use.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—The Journal declared Monday that the largest realty deal in the history of Chicago is revealed by the statement of real estate agents that the Pennsylvania railroad is about to construct a large passenger depot on the west side of the river on property which it has been purchasing quietly for some time. The aggregate value of the property purchased is said to amount to about $25,000,000. The property acquired is said to extend from Van Buren street to Thirty-first street, one and a half miles south.

AN UNKNOWN DYNAMITER THREW BOMB

New York, Nov. 19.—An unknown dynamiter today threw a bomb from a passing train at a Chinese laundry. He missed the laundry, but blew up a furniture store in the basement. The dynamiter escaped down a stairway before the police could apprehend him.

WESTON IS OFF FOR TOLEDO

Elyria, Nov. 19.—Edward Weston, champion pedestrian, resumed his walk across Ohio today. He expects to reach Toledo some time tomorrow and Chicago by next Monday. Today he went by way of Norwalk. Weston is bothered by both feet and stomach, but is ahead of his schedule and sticks grimly to his task.

ELKS TAKE LEAD IN TEMPERANCE.

Toledo, O., Nov. 19.—No more intoxicants will be sold at the handsome clubhouse of the Elks here. Its license certificate was surrendered to the Auditor on Monday. "We decided to close the bar simply because there was no need for it," said W. H. McFarland, one of the trustees, yesterday. "The members of the club do not seem to want liquor in sufficient quantities to make the sale of it in the club house pay." Conditions are changing. I believe that temperance is becoming more general, and there is no longer the demand for liquor there used to be. The club members seem to prefer to amuse themselves with billiards, pool and other amusements that the club provides."

SHORT SESSION

Of the City Council Was That Held Monday Night—No Important Business Transacted.

Council met in regular session on Monday evening, the meeting being called to order at 8 o'clock, and at 8:12 all business had been transacted and adjournment was made, it being one of the shortest sessions ever held.

Four ordinances and a like number of resolutions were introduced, but there not being enough members present to pass them they will go over to the next meeting.

At the meeting last evening Councilmen Conrad, Cain, King, Hughes and Beadle were present. Solicitor Bolton, City Auditor Maurath, Members of the Service Board Taylor and Christian and members of the Safety Board Avery and Juch, were also present.

After the reading of the minutes by Clerk Munch the report of Engineer Wells was read stating that he had prepared plans and specifications for the Pataskala street sewer from Fourth to Fifth streets. The report was received and filed.

An ordinance was introduced by Councilman Cain for the transfer of $1,000 from certain funds of the Board of Public Service to other funds.

An ordinance was introduced by Councilman King appropriating $1,000 for the construction of a retaining wall on the south side of Log Pond Run between Fourth street and Elmwood avenue.

An ordinance was introduced by Councilman Beadle fixing the number and members of the fire department. The chief will receive $110 per month, assistant chief $95, captain $85, five drivers $75 the first year of service and $80 per month thereafter, 11 firemen $70 per month the first year of service and $75 thereafter. The ordinance is the same as the one introduced a week ago except that in the one introduced Monday evening an increase of $10 per month is provided for the chief.

An ordinance introduced by Councilman Cain fixes the number of members and salaries of the police department as follows: The chief to receive $90 a month, one captain $80, one station house keeper $75, one crossing watchman $75, two drivers $70 per month the first year of service and $75 thereafter, 18 patrolmen $70 per month the first year of service and $75 thereafter, two telephone operators, $25 a month. The ordinance was referred to the public safety committee.

A resolution was introduced by Councilman Hughes approving the plans for a sewer on Pataskala street from Fourth to Fifth streets, and from Fifth to South street.

Three resolutions were introduced by Councilman King declaring it necessary to make certain improvements by paving and curbing the roadways. The first was for paving Buckingham street from Granville to Commodore, the second Chestnut from Fourth to Buckingham streets, and the third Hoover street from Fourth to Buckingham.

Wonderful Eczema Cure

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Hemet, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors, but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at F. D. ORDINATION

Of Rev. R. B. Dunlap as Pastor of the Alexandria Congregational Church.

A very interesting service was held at the Congregational church, Alexandria, on Friday, November 15, when Raymond B. Dunlap, pastor of the church, was ordained to the Christian ministry.

The services were in charge of a committee appointed by the Central Ohio Conference the conference having examined Mr. Dunlap and recommended him for ordination.

Mr. Haskell of Zanesville, the moderator of the conference, presided. The scripture was read and prayer offered by Rev. S. Tryon, Newark. The sermon was preached by Rev. H. C. Colburn of Columbus. The charge to the church was given by Rev. J. M. Thomas at Newark, and the charge to the pastor by Rev. E. O. Mead of Mt. Vernon. The ordaining prayer was offered by Rev. T. H. Warner of Newark, after which the right hand of fellowship was extended by Rev. E. J. Converse, of Columbus, and the benediction was pronounced by the newly ordained pastor. Special music was rendered.

Mr. Dunlap is now a minister in full standing in the Congregational denomination. He is a young man of great promise and has a bright future before him.

INSANITY STATISTICS SHOW BIG INCREASE

That insanity is steadily increasing has been shown for many years in these columns, and nearly every report from alienists and from experts states the fact clearly, although there are yet a few statisticians who labor to discredit this showing.

In a recent issue of the New York Medical Journal it is said that at the close of 1906 there were in the public hospitals of the state 26,357 insane patients, or about 1 to 500 of the population, and for the last ten years the annual percentage of increase is above the percentage of increase of the population. A noticeable feature of this increase is the immense contribution to the insane from the new immigrants. While the percentage of foreign-born to the state population is 26, the percentage of insane from this source is 46. The doctors do not attempt to explain this fact—Springfield Republican.

BAD BLOOD

"Before I began using Cascarets, I had a bad complexion, pimples on my face, and my food was not digested as it should have been. Now I am entirely well, and the pimples have all disappeared from my face. I can truthfully say that Cascarets are just as advertised; there taken only two boxes of them."

ter & Co., has resigned his position and accepted one with the Bismark cafe, where he will be pleased to meet his old friends.

Party to Las Vegas.
Mr. John Tucker and a party of nine left this morning for Las Vegas, N. M., to inspect some land. Mr. and Mrs. Tinkler and Messrs Peter and R. A. Schoenenger of this city were of the party.

Child Fatally Burned.
Miss Elizabeth Carnat was called to Pittsburgh by the critical condition of her little niece. The little one who is only 15 months old, fell face forward into the grate and was, it is feared, fatally burned.

Still Unconscious.
A. C. Hufford, who was struck by a train at the Sixth street crossing on Saturday evening and taken to the Newark sanitarium, still remains in a precarious condition. He has not yet recovered consciousness.

Also Sunday morning and evening.
He will also preach in the afternoon at Sharon Valley, 2:30 o'clock, November 24.

Entertained at Fish Supper.
Thomas O'Donnell entertained a number of friends to an elegant fish supper at the Bon Ton Sunday evening. The fish were captured by Harry D. Hale of Newark, at Buckeye
Lake, and were a present to Mr.
O'Donnell. There were four big black bass—Upper Sandusky Chief.
"Gyg" Injures Hand.
Frank Gyg of Cleveland, the popular first sacker of the Newark Molders, is the guest of friends in this city. Frank is nursing a very sore hand, the result of a burn which he received several days ago, while working at his trade, that of a plumber. Being unable to work he is taking advantage of his enforced vacation by visiting his old friends.

Joseph N. Pugh's Engagement.
Mr. and Mrs. John H. Garrison, East Main street, informally announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ethel Garrison, to Mr. Joseph Nelson Pugh, of Newark.
O. Miss Garrison was formerly a resident of Newark. During her residence in Richmond she has made many friends among the young people of the city. The wedding will take place some time in the early spring.—Richmond, Va., Palladium

Coat Made in 1843.
Mr. Wm. Smucker, the north Third street tailor, has just come into possession of a coat which his grandfather, the late Andrew Smucker, made in 1843. The coat was worn by William Smith's father at his wedding 61 years ago and notwithstanding its age, is in a good state of preservation. The coat is made much like the evening clothes of today, except that the sleeves are very small and are made to fit closely about the wrists. Every stitch of the coat was made by hand and the garment shows the best of workmanship. Tailors will be especially interested in seeing the old coat which
Mr. Smucker will preserve in his Third street shop.

ter, on Eddy street, Wednesday at 1 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. H. M.
Weisecke, and burial will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery. Friends invited.

IN MEMORIAM.
In loving remembrance of my dear wife, Melissa J. Livingston, who died November 18, 1906:

Lonely is our home and sad are the hours
Since our dear Melissa is gone.
We have found life full of shadows,
In the one long year
That has passed and gone.
No earthly joy can brighten
The dark shadow
Which grim death has cast.

Thou art gone,
But not forgotten;
In the minds of everyone.
One by one the flowers are taken;
One by one the roses fall,
And we carefully remember,
Pain and sorrow,
Comes to all.

The moon and the stars are beaming
Upon a quiet grave.
There sleepeth without dreaming.
The one I loved and could not save.
Heaven now retains my treasure,
Earth the barren casket keeps,
And the sunlight loves to linger
Where my dear wife sleeps.

Oh, we miss your coming footsteps.
Oh, we miss you everywhere.
Home is not what it used to be
Since my dear wife is not there.
"Twere vain to call you back again,
So all that we can do—
Is to pray that we shall meet you
In heaven above.

—From her loving husband, Sidney
B. Livingston and family.

Nov. 19 In History.

1706—The "Man in the Iron Mask" died in the Bastille. According to a recent discovery among the documents of Louis XIV., the "Man in the Iron Mask" was one M. de Buloigne, an officer who had displeased Le Grand Monarque by raising the siege of Conti without orders.

1811—John Ancon Winslow, captain of the United States gunboat Kearsarge during the fight with the Alabama, born in Wilmington, N. C.; died in Boston 1872.

1828—Franz Schubert, German musical composer, noted for his songs and ballads, died in Vienna, born 1797.

1867—Fitz-Greene Halleck, poet, died at Guilford, Conn., born 1790.

1896—Mrs. Scott Siddons, the English reader and actress, died in Paris; born 1814.

1904—The presidents of the Russo-American convention at St. Petersburg to advocate political reform.

1907—George Cayvan, once popular actress, died in Flushing, N. Y., born 1868.

NEWARK'S DEPLORABLE WINTER OUTLOOK

That spasm of street cleaning that set in a couple of days before the late election was of short duration. Not enough votes were realized to save certain members of the Service Board from defeat, and the much needed cleaning of the streets ended as suddenly as the spasm had overtaken these members of the Board.

And the present miserable, wretched condition of our streets that were once the city's pride—the mud and slush that our citizens are confronting everywhere—may be most befittingly expressed as Newark's Deplorable Winter Outlook.

The mud and slush of the past few days is merely a sample of what our people will be compelled to endure the entire coming winter. The only relief will be during the periods of weather when the ground will be hard frozen.

A number of our paved streets that were models of uniformity and cleanliness, are today a disgrace to any city.

All this is a legacy of the ruthless, senseless policy of tearing up these nicely paved streets and the laying thereon of pipes for the alleged city water works plant, which could have been, and should have been, laid on other streets, where there were no water pipes.

It will be ample food for reflection on every muddy, slushy day throughout the entire winter.

It is reported that Secretary Root will issue a statement regarding the financial disturbance. Of course, the purpose will be to clear the President of any responsibility for it. The President has picked Taft for his successor because Taft is willing to pledge himself to "my policies," but whenever an emergency arises, he falls back on the help of Root. It was Root whom he sent into New York a year ago to save Hughes, and it is Root upon whom he relies now to convince the public that the panic is not entitled to go down into history as the Roosevelt panic.

JUSTICES WILL STAND

Ellis Reverses Opinion on Ad Interim Tenure of Magistrates.

There will be no ad interim justices of the peace after all. Attorney General Ellis rendered an opinion last spring that justices elected at the November election would take office January 1, and that justices would have to be appointed for the period from November 6 to January 1, as the legislature, in extending the terms of other officers had forgotten to include justices.

In an opinion last Friday the attorney general holds that without legislation the justices who were in office November 5 hold over until January, by virtue of the biennial constitutional amendment, which states that "every elective officer, holding office when this amendment is adopted shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified."

WEARING OUT A COUGH

Physicians Say It Is Dangerous, as Well as Useless—Simple Home Remedy Suggested.

"At this season of the year, with coughs and colds everywhere in evidence," said a well-known physician recently, "people should be warned not to neglect these seemingly simple ailments. They should be nipped in the bud, before lung trouble, catarrh, and other complications are given a chance to get a grip on the system. There is nothing new or startling in this advice, but people have never fully realized that good advice it is."

A very simple remedy which can be made at home for very little money, is suggested in the prescription given below. Simple as it is, it is very effective, curing colds and deep-seated coughs very quickly.

Granulated Sugar Syrup..... 1 1/2 oz.

Pinex 2 1/2 oz.

Take three-quarters of a pound of granulated sugar, mix with water, heat and stir until thick syrup is formed. Get the 2 1/2 ounces of pure Pinex from your druggist at a cost of fifty cents. Put the Pinex into a clean pint bottle, and fill it up with Granulated Sugar Syrup. This gives you a full pint of better medicine than you can buy already put up. Well corked it keeps for many months. Take a teaspoonful dose every one, two or three hours.

Pinex is the most concentrated form of compound extract of Norway white pine tar. It is peculiarly rich in gualacol, the chemical element which makes the ozone of the pine forests so effective in curing consumption.

It is barely possible that your druggist may not have Pinex, but he can easily get it for you, and will, if you ask him. It should be emphasized that no other pine tar or pine oil preparation is equal to the pure Pinex in any way.

"BOSSISM"

HAS OBTAINED IN THE SCHOOL SYSTEM OF OHIO FOR FIFTEEN YEARS.

And to That is Due Recent Deplorable Condition, Reiterates Senator W. H. Meek.

Dayton, Nov. 19.—Senator W. H. Meek, a member of the Board of State School Examiners, Monday night gave out the following statement in response to the request of State School Commissioner E. A. Jones that the charge made by Senator Meek in an address before the Central Ohio Teachers' Association last week, to the effect that there had been trafficking in state school certificates, be prepared and submitted to him in specific form:

"Every statement I made before the Central Ohio Teachers' Association is only too true. I am now preparing a comprehensive statement in detail, substantiating all I said and even more. This statement I shall submit to the Senate in the early days of the coming session, when I shall discuss the merits of the bill disqualifying State Examiners from doing institute work in Ohio. I shall reserve all my statements until that time. The deplorable condition in Ohio school affairs is the outgrowth of ringism and rackets bossism which has obtained for over 15 years."

Mrs. Paul Franklin, who has been in Columbus at the Mt. Carmel Hospital, where she underwent an operation about four weeks ago, was brought home Sunday evening, and is improving nicely at this writing.

EARLY HISTORY OF NEWARK

At the date of this writing (1818), there were four stores in the town: Buckingham's, a two story brick, on the north side of the square; James M. Taylor's, on the northeast corner, a one-story frame, painted white in front; P. M. Weddell's, on the south side, a two-story frame, painted white in front; and Col. Davidson's, a two-story brick, on the west side. Of these stores, Buckingham's continued for years to do the most active and profitable business.

Many articles kept for sale at that time would be regarded at present as curiosities, such, for example, as iron candlesticks, lard lamps, rat traps, sickles, gun flints, split hickory brooms, Buckeye hats, and the Morocco hat for the small boy, red, blue and green, and adorned with star, cord and tassel. There were also to be seen large boxes of ginseng, the use of which I have to this day failed to learn. At that early day a few bolts of British broadcloth were occasionally to be found in the stores. This cloth was very expensive, costing from six to eight dollars per yard; consequently it was worn only by the rich and well-born, such, for instance, as merchants, lawyers, doctors and preachers. The young man, also, on the eve of marriage made desperate efforts to secure a suit of broadcloth for that great event. Also, the apprentice at the expiration of his term; this was called his freedom suit. I had almost forgotten the splendid Leghorn hat worn by the wealthy ladies, and costing from sixteen to twenty dollars.

TAVERN AND TAVERN-KEEPING.

At this advanced period of civilization and refinement we read of hotels; nothing of this kind was known in my youthful days. Inns or public houses were known at that period simply as taverns. At the date of this sketch there were four taverns in the town. These were Houston's, on the site of the present Warden House, sign of crossed keys; Cully's, on the east side of the square a two-story log house, weather-boarded, sign of black horse

..... I. CULLY, 1808.

Col. Gault's, on the south side of the square, a two-story brick, called the Mansion House, the sign being a bell. Trindle, on the corner of Third and Church streets, a two-story hewed log building, weather-boarded. These taverns all seemed to do a prosperous business. There was at the time considerable travel, principally from the east, and let it be remembered, always on horseback, as carriages were almost totally unknown in those days, and the word buggy had not yet found its way into the dictionary. Many travelers have I seen alight at the tavern door, tired, wearied and travel-stained. Certain articles of the traveler's apparel and his horse furniture would scarcely be recognized by the youths and middle-aged of the present day, such, for instance, were the old-fashioned saddle-bags and the valise, the green baize leggings tied with red garters, the corduroy overalls, the big drab overcoat with five capes and the oilskin cover for the hat. Besides the patronage of travelers the landlords also enjoyed that of lawyers during the sessions of court. Cully, who done far the most profitable business, accommodated vast droves of horses and bogs destined for the east.

ern market. Another item of considerable profit was the retailing of whiskey. Whiskey was the popular beverage of the day, and was consumed without stint or limit. The drinking of whiskey, seemed to be regarded as one of those inalienable rights which Mr. Jefferson neglected to mention in the Declaration of Independence. It was a common occurrence, on public days, to see even staunch farmers lying around perfectly loose and quite respectably intoxicated. Whiskey being plenty and cheap, there existed no motive for adulterating it, and it was perfectly pure. We heard of no such a thing in those times as delirium tremens. It required some ten or fifteen years for a man to kill himself by drinking whiskey and even then a great many claimed the honor of dying of consumption.

Those were the halcyon days in which the traveler in the winter season enjoyed the comfort of a rousing wood fire, and at bed time, having been furnished with a pair of fur-leather slippers, and partaking of a glorious night-cap, retired to a well-filled feather bed, furnished with an abundance of warm covering, and enjoyed a sleep probably not equaled by that of any millionaire. It was not less agreeable in the morning on descending into the lower hall, to find among a long row neatly arranged alongside the wall, his own nicely polished boots. Then followed the breakfast, probably never surpassed by that furnished by any restaurant on the continent, Delmonico's not excepted. It was said by a comic actor that the sausages of youth never return." The same remark may very justly be made of fire-place cooked victuals. In those primitive days the cooking stove was totally unknown. The cooking utensils consisted of the tin reflector, for baking biscuit; the Dutch oven, furnished with spit and skewers, for the purpose of roasting beef and fowl; the gridiron; the skillet, the long-handled frying-pan and the crane, furnished with hooks and pots, for the purpose of boiling. Those being the days of cheap provisions it followed as a matter of course, that the landlady could always furnish to traveler with the choicest and most substantial fare the most fastidious appetite could desire. We read in scripture of one Demetrius, the silversmith, who when his craft was in jeopardy, exclaimed, "great is Diana of the Ephesians." Upon the same principle we may exclaim, "great were the days of fire-place cooked victuals."

One scene which I frequently witnessed is vividly impressed on my mind. It was that of seeing in the summer season a number of lawyers and other guests seated under the large locust trees in front of Cully's tavern either reading newspapers or playing the long since exploded game of backgammon. A ludicrous sight in connection with this was a young blacksmith, who imagined that to sport in a fine suit of broadcloth and a ruffled shirt bosom, in imitation of the lawyers, was all that constituted a gentleman. He would occasionally seat himself in a chair beneath the locust trees, and placing his feet over the top of another chair, with an inverted newspaper in his hand, would seem to be intently reading, indulging at the same time in a loud laugh. It was well known, however, that he was ignorant of the first letter of the alphabet.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it, but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c. at F. D. Hall's drug store.

BEST FOR CHILDREN.

Announcement of the feast of good things in store for St. Nicholas readers during 1908 emphasizes afresh the important rank this splendid magazine has held in American thought and literature for over a third of a century. It is St. Nicholas that Whittier called "the best child's periodical in the world." It is St. Nicholas of which George W. Cable said: "Nothing that has ever come into my household of children has been in equal degree the stimulus to their artistic and literary tastes."

When St. Nicholas means so much, and brings so much, to its young readers—some one has happily called it "a whole Christmas every month"—wise parents and grown-up friends will see to it that their children's home and happiness outfit, whatever else it lacks this coming year, does not lack St. Nicholas.

MRS. ANNA BRADLY COL. "ROD" DIEGLE TO MANAGE THE HOTEL VICTORY

sign went up from the men and women listeners.

"Where was this child christened?" asked the attorney.

"At Salt Lake City."

"Was Senator Brown present?"

"He held the child."

"What was the child christened?"

"Arthur Brown."

"After this child was born, what were the relations between you and Senator Brown?"

"I did not see very much of him. It was not our intention to continue the relation. He wished to get a divorce from his wife, but I said: 'Never.' I did not want to break up his home, but I was so wretched that he came to me many times and said: 'Oh child, you are the only bright spot of my life.'"

"Is it a fact that your relations continued?"

"They did."

"Did you believe in his affection?"

"I did not believe it possible for any man to ask a woman to have a child and not look after it."

"Your relations continued?"

In June, 1901, she became aware she said that she was about to become a mother again. When she ascertained that fact, she continued, the Senator had her operated on.

Was the loss of that child at your suggestion?" she was asked.

"Oh, no, no, no," she replied.

Then she explained: "At that time our relations had become known. The Senator wanted to break up his home. I would not let him."

"Did the loss of the child cause you any mental distress?"

"Oh, yes, I knew it was wrong, but it's so hard to describe one's feelings."

When Senator Brown was turned down by his party's caucus for reelection to the United States Senate, he came to her immediately.

Court adjourned for the noon recess.

Col. Rodney J. Diegle, a former Columbus newspaper man, has been appointed general manager of the Hotel Victory, at Pul-in-Bay. It is the largest summer hotel on the great lakes and Col. Diegle's appointment was made by the trustees of the J. T. Ryan estate.

Col. Diegle is one of the best known men in the state. For the past several years he has been assistant manager of the Cedar Point resort and has assisted in entertaining thousands of visitors from all over the country. He is an enthusiastic Elk and is known to nearly every subordinate lodge in the state. Last year he was a candidate on the Democratic ticket for State Dairy and Food Commissioner. There is no doubt but what the Ryan trustees have chosen well by the appointment of Col. Diegle.

NOVELS BREAK UP HOME.

Dayton, Nov. 19.—Dime novels are credited with having wrecked the home of Mrs. Anna Trubel and disrupting a pleasant home. The woman spent nearly all her time in reading the yellow back literature, and in consequence, it is said, neglected her home and family.

YOUTH SHOT BY OWN GUN.

Bellfontaine, Nov. 19.—Carl Bailey, aged 15 years, was climbing over a rail fence when the shotgun he was carrying slipped, the hammer striking a rail. The charges from the two barrels entered Bailey's left side just over the heart. The doctors will give no hope for his recovery.

DR. CHADWICK IS FREE.

Cleveland, Nov. 19.—The charge jointly placed against Cassie Chadwick and her husband, Dr. Leroy S. Chadwick, of forging Andrew Carnegie's name to a $5,000,000 note, was nulled yesterday. Dr. Chadwick is said by his attorney, Jay P. Dawley, to be in the condition of a pauper in Jacksonville, Fla.

ASK FOR LOCAL OPTION.

Alliance, Nov. 19.—The council last night received a petition signed by 1200 voters, asking for an election under the local option law. It was accepted and December 10 set as the date of the election. There are 62 saloons in the city.

TWO DEAD FROM FEVER.

Delaware, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Samuel Shipman died yesterday of typhoid fever, and two of her children are dangerously ill from the same disease. Her husband died from the same malady two weeks ago.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

FOUNDERS DAY

OBSERVED AT THE GRANVILLE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH BY UNION SERVICES.

Historical Sermon Delivered by Dr. C. J. Baldwin—Society Elects Officers.

Granville, Nov. 19.—Since the great awakening of interest in historical matters connected with Granville aroused by the Centennial celebration in 1905, the memory of the fathers and of the early days of the community is kept alive each year by the observance of Founders' Day on the anniversary of the arrival of the first colony from Granville, Mass., at its namesake town in the Licking valley, November 17, 1805.

This year Founders' Day fell on Sunday and the Granville Historical Society, under whose auspices the observance is held, felt that the services could be most appropriately be held that day in the historic old Presbyterian church, which as the Congregational church was organized in Granville, Mass., and came out bodily with pastor and complete equipment to begin its beneficent work at the very birth of the Granville village. Accordingly by the courtesy of the pastors and churches a union service was held on Sunday evening with the following program:

Organ Voluntary—Miss Rockwood.
Introductory words by Rev. A. S. Carman, president of the Granville Historical Society.
Hymn—Rev. Robert Wille.
Prayer—Rev. Robert Wille.
Benediction.

The historical sermon by Dr. Baldwin who has been for more than twenty years pastor of the Granville Baptist church, was one of the ablest of the sermons for which he has become noted throughout the land. His text was felicitously chosen from the words of prophecy "Thou shalt hear a voice behind thee saying 'This is the way: walk ye in it.'" This he interpreted as the voice of yester which speaks from the past, and he drew significant lessons from the colonial history of the American continent as well as from the settlement and early history of Granville, with a wealth of historical and statistical illustration combined with great beauty of expression. A great audience filled the audience room and expressed its appreciation of the interesting service in unmeasured terms.

At the Founders' Day service held in Granville Sunday evening where were present many persons connected with the early history of the town or college, either personally or by family relation. Among these were Mr. D. M. Shepardson, aged 84 years, whose memory goes back to the building of the first college edifice in 1831, and the veteran missionary, Dr. William Ashmore of China, who is spending a few weeks in Granville. He is Denison's oldest alumnus, belonging to the class of 1845; but he came as a mere lad to enter the boys' school of the institution in 1822. Miss Helen A. Rose represents the family of Deacon Timothy Rose of the first colony, and Mrs. Joseph D. Little is a daughter-in-law of the famous Dr. Little, so long pastor of the Presbyterian church in Granville.

A meeting of the Granville Historical Society was held in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church and a new constitution was adopted and the recent election of officers was confirmed. The officers chosen are: Rev. A. S. Carman, president; Prof. W. H. Johnson, recording secretary; Mrs. Helen A. Rose, treasurer; Rev. T. J. Shepard, necrologist; Mrs. Kate Shepard, secretary; and Mr. J. S. Sutherland, secretary. The society is incorporated with full powers to carry on investigations into the history and genealogy of Granville and Licking county, and to erect a building for library and memorial purposes. It already has a valuable historical collection. A number of new members were elected at this meeting. Any person desiring membership may communicate with the officers.

Granville, Nov. 19.—At the last meeting of the Irving Literary Society the following program was carried out: Essay, H. S. Fisk; extempore, W. D. Hill; oration, T. B. Smith; reading, Spencer Carlin; debate, H. B. Carney vs. E. G. Carney—Resolved, That Country Life is Better for a Young Man Than City Life. Judges, N. C. Carman and E. P. Linnell. It was decided to hold the Thanksgiving Extra on November 26 in Irving Hall.

The Calvean Literary Society held its regular meeting on Friday evening with a good attendance and the following interesting program was carried out: Declaration, "The First American Congress," James Adair, declaration, "Foreigners' Views of the Statue," V. H. Roper; extempore, L. R. Wilson and C. Keyser; essay, "Leadership," Chester Winter; extempore, O. M. Arnold; address, "England as a Summer Resort," Dean Hart; book review, "Prisoner of Zenda," R. C. McMillan. Walter S. Stevens has been compelled to leave school for the present at least, on account of his health.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Longhery of Toledo, who have been visiting here for the past week, returned home on Monday after having had a very enjoyable visit.

A. K. Mather, '69, is at his home in Chicago, convalescing from his recent severe illness.

Miss Lillian Williams of Fostoria, who has been visiting friends in the village during the past week, left for Columbus Monday, where she will make a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Park Timble, for a few days before returning home.

Mr. J. S. Jones left for Chicago on Monday night.

Fred Hobart and Harry Burchitt left Monday for the Southwest on a hunting trip. They will hunt bear.

Dr. W. D. O. of the Denison class of '72, is spending some weeks in Granville. His home is in Boulder, Col. He is intensely interested in the development of the university since his college days.

The subjects are taught by men who are specialists in them.

The expense of the entire course is estimated to be only $60.

TO MAKE APPEAL TO STATE WOMEN TO LEND HELP

IN AVOIDING DISGRACE OF HAVING CHILD BORN IN THE PENITENTIARY.

An Appeal to the Governor Will Be Taken to Get Parole for Girl Murderess.

Cleveland, Nov. 19.—The aid of Police Chief Fred Kohler was enlisted Monday by the women who have entered upon a campaign to save from birth in the state penitentiary in Columbus, the child of Maria Bannardo, the 19 year old girl murderess, who was taken to the institution Saturday to serve a life sentence.

"A parole certainly should be obtained for the girl until after the birth of her child," said Chief Kohler. "As to a pardon, those who are investigating can take up whether she already has been punished enough. I think her sentence too severe. It was more than the men usually get."

This declaration followed a meeting of the council of women, in which it was decided to go to Columbus Friday and to visit the governor, if possible, to lower officers prove futile.

"She shot in self defense," declared Mrs. G. A. Moonsmith, president of the Detroit School Mothers' club, reviewing her shooting of Rafael Barato, who attempted to force her door after refusing to wed her.

The women's program includes an appeal to all the women of the state.

MAN AND WIFE IN JAIL.
Akron, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Lillie Winger and husband, Philip Winger, are in jail, having been indicted yesterday for murder in the second and first degrees, respectively. They are charged with shooting Charles Saunders, a barkeeper, when they were ordered from the saloon, and Winger shot Saunders through the heart, while his wife, it is alleged, urged him on.

ALL DISEASES OF MEN AND WOMEN TREATED.

Deafness cured by an entire new system. No matter what your disease may be or of how long standing. The doctors will locate your disease without asking you any questions. These doctors are said to be the greatest stomach, liver and kidney specialists in America. The sick and afflicted should take advantage of the opportunity here offered. They may never again have the privilege of consulting such skilled physicians so near their homes. Go and have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is curable they will tell you so frankly, if incurable they will give you such advice as to prolong your life. No sick man or woman should fail to consult these eminent men. It is the greatest opportunity of the sick person's life.

Every kind of human ill falls at the touch of these marvelous men, so great and wonderful have been the cures that in many cases it is hard, indeed, to find the dividing line between human accomplishment and miracle. It matters not what the ill may be; it matters not what discouraging reports may have been made from any direction; it matters not if you have been told that grim death stares you in the face. Go and consult these doctors, and if there is the finest thread upon which to hang a hope you will find that hope there, and that hope will surely lead you to peace, contentment and health.

No time given to drones or gossipers. Be it distinctly understood that we are not Christian Scientists, Magnetic Healers or Faith Healers but treat diseases on scientific principles.

THESE DOCTORS are skilled specialists in every ill that flesh is heir to and will be found ready and willing to extend the hand of help, bringing back health and happiness where now exists sickness and sorrow. A special invitation to anyone suffering from disease pronounced incurable. It matters not what your disease may be, come and be examined; if curable they will treat you; if incurable, advise you. These doctors treat every variety of disease and deformity. They have had vast experience in London, Paris, Heidelberg and Stockholm.

SCHOOL FAIR

WILL BE HELD ON THE AFTER-NOON AND NIGHT OF DECEMBER 6

To Get Library Funds—Board Decides to Dismiss Schools Friday Following Thanksgiving.

The high school will have a fair! It's a new departure, but it will probably be successful for all that. Principal Williams suggested the idea to the pupils, and now they are making big plans for the event and the fair, the first of its kind to be held in the city, will be held the afternoon and night of December 6. At the meeting of the Board of Education Monday night, Mr. Williams was granted the use of the high school on that date. The pupils will furnish all the articles to be sold, which will consist of needlework, burnt wood and leather work, hand painted articles of different sorts, homemade candies and other things. The money derived from the fair will be used to buy standard works for the high school library.

When the board was called to order President Beggs, Clerk Keller and Messrs. Haight, Kexxy and Fulton responded to their names. The usual routine business was transacted. A letter was read from T. T. Smith of the department of patriotic instruction of the G. A. R., requesting the board to place the American flag in all the school rooms. For a long time past there has been a flag in all the rooms of the Newark schools, they having been donated by the Powers-Miller company.

The regular monthly statement of Clerk Keller was read and approved, and as the contingent fund is a little low at the present time, on motion, $10,000 was temporarily transferred from the building fund to the contingent fund. The report of Trust Officer Jones was then read. His report showed that during the month of October there were 26 truants and 34 absent from the schools.

A Miss May, a demonstrator for a pencil sharpener, was allowed to speak to the board. So desirous to place her sharpeners in the school rooms at $2.50 each. The board all sharpened their pencils as a test, but decided they couldn't spare the money just at the present time for the article.

Supt. Simkins submitted his report to the board. Last month there were 3,794 pupils in the schools of the city, a very satisfactory enrollment.

ment. With the exception of three teachers all attended the meetings of the Central Ohio Teachers' Association, held in Columbus earlier in the month. All the teachers of this city are members of the association which Supt. Simkins regards as a good thing. In the room of Miss Stuart in the third grade of the South Fifth street building the children are very crowded and they are forced to sit very close to the stove, too close for comfort. The matter was referred to a committee.

The pupils of Miss Brennstuhl's room want a book case and have $9.50 towards the purchase of one. A good one costs more money and the board was appealed to to help them out. This the board decided to do, and will supply the necessary money. Several other matters were also referred to in the report.

The question of heating some of the rooms came up for quite a long discussion, and a committee will handle the matter. It was also decided that no school would be held the Friday following Thanksgiving. This will give the pupils and teachers four days' vacation at this time, and the kindness of the board will be fully appreciated.

FOREIGNER

CAUGHT IN SWIFTLY REVOLVING MACHINERY AT WEHRLE PLANT.

And He Received Injuries That Will Probably Result in His Death at Sanitarium.

Caught in the whirling cogs of some machinery at the Wehrle Stove factory this morning, Toma Nestor, a foreigner living at 451 Serocco street, received injuries that will probably result in his death. He was working around some machinery and in getting too close to it, his clothing caught and he was whirled around many times before help could arrive and release him.

The ambulance of Criss Bros. & Jones made an excellent run and carried him to the Sanitarium where he received medical attention. His head was badly mashed and his chest and back were bruised and cut. His left arm was broken and he may be injured internally.

ATTENDANCE

VERY SMALL AT HORSE SHOW

New York, Nov. 19—Has the automobile succeeded in crowding the horse so far to the rear that annual horse shows are at last to be the mecca only of lovers of thoroughbred type of horse? That question is being seriously asked by officials of the National Horse Show in view of the small attendance on the opening day which contrasted severely with the past records. It is admitted the money flurry has not affected the society element and bare galleries and a half empty arena were declared due simply to the transfer of interest to the autos.

President Cornelius Feltows is bitterly disappointed at the lack of interest so far, but declares he hopes things will liven up before long.

Improve Telephone System.

An improvement of more meaning than appears on the surface is to be made in the telephone system of the Pennsylvania lines west. The exchange is now in a small room on the tenth floor of the Union station, but a room several times as large is to be fitted up and a new and larger switchboard installed January 1, on the eighth floor. The Pennsylvania lines also have established independent lines from Pittsburg to Stouenville, Dennison, Alliance, Cleveland, Erie, Ashtabula and numerous other points, while the service also has been established along some of the lines for emergency use in case of wrecks, slides or other causes that may impede traffic or interfere with telegraph service. The telephones also supplement the telegraph and are at hand in many places where there is no telegraph office.—Pittsburg Gazette Times.
